DEMOCRATIC BIBLE

The Democratic Bible serves as a protective shield and helps citizens around the world to be resistant to cyber manipulation and propaganda of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes.

INTRODUCTION

CYBER MANIPULATION AND PROPAGANDA - A MORTAL THREAT TO DEMOCRACY

Totalitarian and authoritarian regimes, including politicians with a false attitude towards democracy, use cyber manipulation and propaganda on social networks to push democracy out of the online environment.

Citizens in democratic countries on social networks are at risk of being so influenced by cyber manipulation and propaganda that, especially at election time, they will vote for candidates who either have a false attitude towards democracy or are ideologically close to totalitarian and authoritarian regimes.

The Democratic Bible considers cyber manipulation and propaganda as an evil ideology that threatens democratic principles and values (human rights, digital free will, dignity, equality, respect for human beings, selflessness, solidarity, thoughtfulness, morality, honor, social health and mutual trust) so close to the human heart and important for everyday life.

The ideology of evil in the form of cyber manipulation and propaganda has long been pushing democracy out of the online environment, threatening its influential and dignified position in the world.

The democratic world urgently needs to activate a protective shield in the form of a Democratic Bible that helps citizens around the world to be immune to the cyber manipulation and propaganda massively disseminated on social networks.

Love of country and loyalty to the ruling ideology cannot be enforced by violence or laws, as some totalitarian regimes do.

This will make the Democratic Bible all the more desirable as a source of inspiration and a source of faith in democratic principles and values, and will make citizens sufficiently able to resist the ideology of evil represented by the cyber manipulation and propaganda of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes, including politicians with a false attitude towards democracy.

The Democratic Bible will enter the real world as well as the digital world as a monumental symbol of faith and hope for billions of citizens who long to live in peace, security and a free and just world where democratic principles and values are integral not only to personal, professional and public life, but also to interpersonal, virtual and international relations.

THE DEMOCRATIC BIBLE

Protective shield against cyber manipulation and propaganda

The Democratic Bible is an international term that expresses the deep emotional attachment and belief of citizens in democracy, whose values are so close to the human heart and so important for everyday life.

The Democratic Bible serves as a shield that protects the democratic world from the ideology of evil represented by the cyber-manipulation and propaganda of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes and politicians with a false attitude towards democracy.

The threat associated with cyber manipulation and propaganda is that it is seen as the ideology of evil that is pushing democracy out of cyberspace.

Citizens in democratic countries on social networks are at risk of being so influenced by cyber manipulation and propaganda that, especially at election time, they will vote for candidates who either have a false attitude towards democracy or are ideologically close to totalitarian and authoritarian regimes.

The Democracy Bible creates a strong alliance and a strong line of defense against cyber attacks on democracy, and its message and values have the power to unite citizens across cultures and nationalities in a common resistance not only against totalitarian and authoritarian regimes, but also against politicians with a false attitude towards democracy.

In cyberspace, the Democratic Bible protects democratic principles and values (human rights, digital free will, dignity, equality, respect for human beings, selflessness, solidarity, thoughtfulness, morality, honor, social health, and mutual trust) by helping citizens around the world to be resistant to the ideology of evil represented by the cyber manipulation and propaganda of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes and politicians with a false attitude towards democracy.

Doctrine of moral literacy

The Democratic Bible is a fundamental doctrine of moral literacy, which carries values and principles of correct behavior not only in personal, professional and public life, but also in interpersonal and virtual relationships. Its main mission is to guide the members of the International Democratic Family to act with respect for moral and ethical standards, thus contributing to harmonious coexistence and the development of a democratic world.

The mission of the International Family of Democracy is to provide confidence-building democracy not only in the real world, but also in the digital world, and to help countries and citizens who find themselves at critical risk due to security, social and cyber threats.

The purpose of help is solidarity, public advocacy, support and personal commitment of the members of the International Democratic Family - citizens, politicians, businessmen, national and international companies, authorities, institutes, etc., for the benefit of citizens and countries searching:

- Political assistance: Political assistance personifies the involvement of members of the International Democratic Family in political processes wherever citizens face unspeakable suffering, oppression, injustice, discrimination, persecution and inhuman treatment. Helping vulnerable countries to build the rule of law, modernize their political and legal systems, and develop good interpersonal, virtual and international relations is a key element of the International Democratic Family's mission.

- Security assistance: The involvement of members of the International Democratic Family in security initiatives and cooperation at the national and international levels will significantly help in preventing conflict and strengthening security and human rights in the world, which is a prerequisite for a stable environment in which citizens and countries can prosper and build and develop social and economic capital.
- Social assistance: Supporting social domestic and foreign programmes and initiatives that strengthen democratic and digital well-being, improve access to education, health and social care, housing and other needs will contribute significantly to strengthening national and international cohesion and improving the living conditions of citizens and countries in need.
- Economic assistance: Financial support from members of the International Democratic Family in building democratic and digital prosperity for citizens will significantly enhance security, social, economic, environmental and technological development and sustainability.

- Legal assistance: Support for legal reforms and the provision of legal assistance by members of the International Family of Democracy will contribute significantly to strengthening the legal framework, protecting human rights and ensuring fair access to justice for all citizens around the world.
- Cyber assistance: Political, legal and social support and assistance from the members of the International Democratic Family in the area of cyber security is absolutely crucial and vital for citizens who find themselves at critical risk or facing inhuman or degrading treatment by the state as a result of suffering, oppression, injustice, disinformation, hatred and manipulation of public opinion.
- Environmental assistance: The involvement of members of the International Democratic Family in environmental protection and sustainable development initiatives will contribute significantly to the protection of natural resources and the improvement of the quality of life of citizens and countries, especially the most vulnerable.

Citizens and countries facing critical life situations and in urgent need of assistance from members of the International Democratic Family can best express their gratitude by becoming actively involved in the future and personally assisting not only citizens in need.

The members of the International Family of Democracy - nations, citizens, politicians, business people, national and international companies, authorities and institutions - contribute significantly to strengthening confidence in democracy and its influence and dignity in the world through their personal commitment, solidarity, support and assistance.

Honorary membership in the world's largest family

Become a member of the International Democratic Family and, for the sake of yourself and your fellow human beings, uphold the principles and values of the Democratic Bible - human rights, digital free will, dignity, equality, respect for human beings, selflessness, solidarity, thoughtfulness, morality, honor, social health and mutual trust, which are so close to the human heart and so important for our daily lives.

The Democracy Bible is a path that will lead you through democratic principles and values to democratic and digital prosperity, the highest level of quality of life that a person can ever achieve in their lifetime.

Democratic and digital well-being can only be achieved by a nation and a citizen as a member of the International Democratic Family, with the help of the Democratic Bible, which serves as a protective shield and helps citizens around the world to remain immune to cyber manipulation and propaganda.

At the same time, the Democratic Bible contributes to the dynamic development of good interpersonal, virtual and international relations, a harmonious environment and economic and social security in personal, professional and public life through the implementation of democratic principles and values.

The mission of the International Family of Democracy is to use its actions to strengthen confidence in democracy and its influential and dignified position not only in the real world but also in the virtual world, so that democratic principles and values can be better protected, built and developed in our daily lives, of which the following is an integral part:

- Digital peace: Digital peace is of primary importance for maintaining international stability, as it creates the conditions for a secure and balanced development between the real and digital worlds. International stability depends on peaceful relations between countries, which enables prosperity, cooperation and sustainable development at the global level. Digital peace reduces the risk of conflict, war and social terrorism, contributing to the protection of human rights, economic growth and social and technological progress.

- Human rights: Citizens need their rights to be guaranteed by the Constitution to live, because without them no one can live as they would wish. The loss of rights and freedoms threatens not only personal, professional and public life, but also interpersonal relationships.
- Citizens' digital free will: Digital free will is key to preserving individuality and democratic processes, allowing citizens to express their views and vote freely, which is a fundamental pillar of a democratic society.
- A dignified life: Dignity must be protected in both the real and digital worlds because it is key to maintaining respect and to developing personal, moral, social and spiritual integrity. Without the constitutional protection of dignity, one would face tyranny, oppression, and injustice, etc. from the state.
- Equality: Equality is a fundamental pillar of social justice and stability, fosters social cohesion and enables all individuals to have equal access to opportunities, resources and rights, which contributes to prosperity and sustainable development of society.
- Respect of man for man: The importance of respect for the person lies in the formation of good interpersonal relationships, promoting mutual understanding and appreciation, and contributing to the achievement of social harmony where individuals show humanity towards each other.

- Human selflessness: Selflessness is crucial because it strengthens social cohesion, promotes collective well-being and creates strong interpersonal relationships where people are willing to give of their time and effort for the well-being of others.
- Solidarity: Solidarity is a fundamental pillar of society as it creates unity between individuals and groups, provides support for those in need and helps to maintain social cohesion and a fair distribution of responsibilities for the benefit of the community.
- Thoughtfulness: Thoughtfulness plays an important role in society as it promotes mutual respect, empathy and good interpersonal relations. This value enables people to better understand the needs and perspectives of others, leading to harmonious coexistence and mutual enrichment in a democratic world.
- Moral literacy: Morality is an elementary element of social life as it provides an ethical framework for the conduct of individuals and groups. Its importance lies in upholding common norms and values that help create an integrated and responsible society that promotes human dignity and mutual understanding.
- Truth: Lies, the spread of misinformation and manipulation of public opinion threaten national security, the lives and health of citizens, subvert the democratic system, create security and social tensions in society, devalue the sovereignty of the rule of law and undermine trust in democracy.

Truth is a key element in ensuring personal and national security and a dignified life under the rule of law. Truthful information is the basis for good decision-making and fair action, and thus for maintaining security, social, economic, environmental and legal stability in a democratic world.

- Social health: Social health is a key element in achieving democratic and digital well-being for citizens. A harmonious social environment and good interpersonal relationships positively influence the mental and physical health of each individual, serving as a basis for disease prevention and promoting overall quality of life.
- Mutual trust: Mutual trust plays the most important role in the political, public and social spheres, as it strengthens social cohesion, enables democracy to function effectively and creates the basis for cooperation and sustainable development for a democratic world.
- Love for animals and respect for the environment: It contributes to the sustainability of our planet by promoting an ethical approach to biodiversity conservation, sustainable use of natural resources and ensuring harmony between people, animals and ecosystems. The love of animals and the environment is crucial to human health, fosters a relationship with nature and animals, and has a major impact on the future of humanity.

CHAPTER 4

THE DEMOCRATIC BIBLE

Symbol of democratic principles and values

As a member of the International Democratic Family, for the sake of yourself and your fellow human beings, uphold the values of the Democratic Bible, which are so close to the human heart and so important to our daily lives.

As a member of the International Democratic Family, if you apply the values of the Democratic Bible in your daily life, you are helping:

- Protect yourself: By applying the values of the Democratic Bible, you not only strengthen your own security, but also become a moral authority and gain acceptance in society. People will trust you because you are helping to protect the democratic principles and values that are central to our daily lives and close to our hearts.
- Protect your family: By applying democratic values in your daily life, you protect your family by creating a solid foundation for a harmonious and secure environment and ethical interpersonal relationships on which the dignity of every citizen in society depends.
- Protect your good name: If you are rightly perceived in your environment as a liar, a cheat, a thief or as a person who creates conflict by spreading misinformation and hatred and manipulating public opinion, you cannot be a member of the International Democratic Family and you cannot use its logo on your website. Otherwise, you will be sued for reputational damage to the International Democratic Family. That is why it is important to protect your good name, because your reputation depends on it. Reputation is a symbol of moral authority and its protection is a core value of the Democratic Bible, which not only shapes personal, professional and public life, but also influences interpersonal and virtual relationships.

- To protect the good name of your nation: Protecting the good name of your nation is key, because that is how you protect your own name in the first place. You must never allow your nation to be led by politicians with a false attitude to democracy, who spread misinformation and hatred and manipulate public opinion. It is necessary to actively speak out against them and organize demonstrations to have them removed from their positions, as their actions threaten not only the security of the nation but also your life.
- Protect friends, colleagues, classmates and fellow citizens: The fate of fellow citizens and the rule of law depends on the values of the Democratic Bible, as these values provide a legal framework that has a major impact on the security, social and economic stability within society. Respect for human rights, principles of equality, fairness and democratic process are key to maintaining a balance between individual freedom and collective democratic and digital well-being.

- Protect your own health: The quality of your health depends on the values of the Democratic Bible. The legal framework provides a guarantee of the quality of health services and ensures their availability to all citizens regardless of social or economic status. Equal opportunities and legal certainty in healthcare promote prevention, early diagnosis and adequate treatment, which ultimately contribute to the overall health of the individual and society as a whole.
- Protect personal economic interests: Only the rule of law gives you the certainty that you can live the way you want and the way you like to live. Without the protection of human rights, you are at risk of a lifetime of misery, unhappiness, despair, hopelessness, persecution, injustice and eternal suffering. By applying the values of the Democratic Bible in your daily life, you make a significant contribution to ensuring the security and legal stability on which healthy economic growth depends, not only in your personal life, but also in your professional and public life.
- Protect the right to live freely and according to your own wishes: By applying the values of the Democratic Bible in your daily life, you not only protect your fundamental right to live freely, but you also promote the principles of individuality and autonomy. The legal framework of a democratic society provides a guarantee that every citizen has the right to live in the way that best suits them, without discrimination or infringement of their personal freedoms. The values of the Democratic Bible create an environment in which individual freedom and decision-making are respected and protected, allowing citizens to live according to their own ideas and personal beliefs.

- Protect your country: Applying the values of the Democratic Bible in your daily life not only protects you, but also your country, which strengthens trust in democracy. You lead by example in your personal, professional and public life, and in doing so you protect the rule of law from those who threaten democracy. Your engagement helps protect democratic principles from external threats such as cyber attacks and cyber manipulation and propaganda.
- Protect the citizens and the country: As a member of the International Democratic Family, you can make a difference to citizens who are at critical risk or facing inhuman and degrading treatment by the state as a result of suffering, oppression, injustice, misinformation, hatred and manipulation of public opinion.
- Protect democratic elections: In order to have a beautiful and happy life, you need to know who you are voting for. A politician who lies or spreads misinformation and hatred and tries to manipulate public opinion poses a security threat to the state and citizens. Only trust your vote to a politician who will provide you with evidence of what they have done for your democratic and digital well-being, not what they will do once you elect them. Promises devalue democratic elections; a true democrat demonstrates his commitment to the electorate through his actions, not promises. Give your vote to a politician who has a proven record of protecting and honoring the values of the Democratic Bible and doing much good for the democracy on which your democratic and digital well-being depends. Give your vote to a politician who will show you the way that you and your children can safely navigate in the digital age.

THE DEMOCRATIC BIBLE

A compass for the democratic world

The Democratic Bible serves as a compass for humanity in an ever-evolving environment, providing direction and a security and value framework for preserving democratic principles and achieving democratic and digital prosperity for citizens.

Given that for the first time in history, citizens live in two worlds (real and virtual) simultaneously, this new dimension of reality makes it necessary to ensure the international protection of democracy in cyberspace, where it is currently facing ideological competition, represented by cyber manipulation and propaganda, which is pushing democracy out of the online environment.

However, in order to ensure the international protection of democracy in cyberspace, it is essential to first build a new technologically advanced democratic infrastructure on which the successful modernization of democracy towards online democracy depends, from which democratic and digital welfare for citizens is born.

Democratic and digital prosperity means that citizens are happy and satisfied because they live in a country that has a long-term strategic plan with a view 30, 50 or 100 years ahead. This programme makes people's lives more secure, not only in health, social and public services, but also in pension policy, which requires a long-term outlook of at least 50 years.

The worst thing that could befall citizens and endanger their lives is a situation where the state has no long-term plan at hand with a view 30, 50 or 100 years ahead, thanks to which the short- and medium-term goals of the political agenda can be better and more effectively met.

Achieving democratic and digital prosperity, which cannot be secured for citizens except by all democratic governments working together to develop a long-term strategic plan with a view to 30, 50 or 100 years, means for citizens:

- Live a life filled with happiness and satisfaction according to your own ideas and dreams: A long-term plan creates better conditions for individual and societal development, enabling citizens to realize their long-term goals not only in their personal, professional and public lives, but also in the realm of interpersonal, virtual and international relationships, contributing significantly to their overall happiness and lifelong satisfaction.
- To have the security and legal guarantees that are the basis of democracy: A long-term strategic plan looking 30, 50 or 100 years ahead strengthens the mechanisms of a democratic state, which includes ensuring a legal framework for the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms, thereby providing maximum security and legal certainty for citizens.

- Be economically secure in retirement: The long-term strategic plan, looking 30, 50 and 100 years ahead, includes measures to maintain economic stability and ensure sufficient resources for the pension system, helping citizens to achieve economic security in retirement.
- High quality provision of health, social and public services: A long-term strategic plan looking 30, 50 or 100 years ahead sets the framework for improving the delivery of health, social and public services, resulting in higher quality and affordable services for all citizens in a democratic world. This plan could enable better planned investment in the infrastructure, staff and technology needed to deliver efficient and accessible services.
- Minimum tax burden on individuals and corporations: A long-term strategic plan with a view 30, 50 or 100 years ahead has a high potential to create conditions for a minimum tax burden on individuals and corporations, as it allows for the efficient allocation of funds and investment in key areas of the economy and society, which increases the productivity and competitiveness of businesses. This will make it easier to identify and remove unnecessary administrative and tax obstacles that increase the tax burden and hamper economic growth. Reducing the tax burden on individuals and companies stimulates investment, entrepreneurship and economic development. A clear and stable tax policy set out in a long-term strategic plan provides certainty and predictability for businesses and individuals, which is key for long-term planning and investment. Such an approach leads to sustainable economic growth and prosperity that benefits the democratic world.

- Live a long and happy life: Lasting security, social, economic and legal stability in the country can only be guaranteed to the citizens if a strategic long-term plan is activated with a 30, 50 or 100-year view that reduces the risk of security social, health, economic, political and cyber crises.
- Fulfilling the values of democracy in your everyday life: A long-term strategic plan with a 30, 50 or 100-year view ahead enables citizens to fulfil the values of the Democratic Bible (human rights, digital free will, dignity, equality, respect for people, selflessness, solidarity, thoughtfulness, morality, honor, social health and mutual trust) in their daily lives.

The Democratic Bible is a comprehensive and carefully structured document that emphasizes the democratic and digital well-being of citizens around the world while serving as a basic guideline for democratic governments, organizations, and individuals seeking to strengthen trust in democracy and its influence and dignity not only in the real world but also online.

THE DEMOCRATIC BIBLE

The embodiment of good in the fight against the ideology of evil

Do you care how much you are gambling with your life and the lives of your loved ones if you neglect your civic duty to protect the values of the Democratic Bible?

Citizens who neglect to protect and respect the values of the Democratic Bible (human rights, digital free will, democratic and digital well-being, dignity, equality, respect for people, selflessness, solidarity, thoughtfulness, morality, honor, social health and mutual trust) endanger not only themselves, but also their country and the entire democratic world.

Neglecting to protect the values of the Democratic Bible leads to the demise of democracy and the emergence of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes.

The world public needs to be aware of the dangers it faces if citizens neglect to protect the values of the Democratic Bible:

- The demise of democracy: Due to cyber manipulation and propaganda, citizens are unable to distinguish between lies and truth, and therefore, especially during election time, they are in danger of voting for candidates who either have a false attitude towards democracy or are ideologically close to totalitarian and authoritarian regimes.

- Indescribable suffering: This term describes the extreme physical, mental or emotional suffering to which citizens of totalitarian or authoritarian regimes are subjected. By suffering is meant torture, isolation or other forms of inhuman treatment.
- Injustice: Injustice expresses a systematic threat and violation of law and justice. Totalitarian and authoritarian regimes apply norms and rules based on ideological motivations at the expense of human rights and digital free will.
- Violence: Totalitarian and authoritarian regimes use violence to consolidate their power and suppress dissent and civil liberty, which includes brutal police crackdowns, persecution of citizens and the creation of a climate of fear.
- Torture: Torture is the systematic and targeted infliction of physical or psychological suffering on citizens. Totalitarian and authoritarian regimes use torture as a means of extortion, punishment, information and empowerment.
- Persecution: Persecution refers to systematic surveillance, harassment or discrimination against individuals or groups on political or ideological grounds, forced searches or other drastic sanctions.
- State bullying: State bullying is a systematic abuse of state power to harass citizens in a dangerous manner, manifesting itself in the restriction of rights, violence, blackmail, intimidation, threats and denial of public health and social services.

- Blackmail: Blackmail is the practice of forcing individuals and groups to submit to ideological interests through violence, threats, intimidation, or the disclosure of compromising information.
- Discrimination: Discrimination includes unequal treatment of individuals or groups on the basis of their political affiliation, religion, ethnic origin or other characteristics. Totalitarian regimes systematically use discrimination to suppress dissenting views and groups and to consolidate power.
- False accusations: Totalitarian and authoritarian regimes use false accusations to discredit and suppress civil liberty. These accusations serve to denigrate and isolate inconvenient citizens who, as a result of these appalling practices, face indescribable suffering not only in their personal, professional or public lives, but also in their interpersonal and virtual relationships.
- Arrest: Arrests are often used as a tool to silence criticism and suppress dissent. Citizens are often arrested on the basis of false accusations and political motivations, without respect for fundamental rights to a fair trial.
- Brutal interrogations with no chance of defense: Citizens arrested by totalitarian or authoritarian regimes are often subjected to brutal interrogations during which physical and psychological methods of coercion are used. At this stage, they are usually denied the opportunity to defend themselves and subjected to inhuman treatment.

- Constructed trials: Trials in totalitarian and authoritarian regimes are fabricated and serve to legitimize politically motivated arrests. The courts are not independent, and decisions are influenced by power or political interests. Convictions are thus the result of political persecution rather than evidence of guilt.
- Poverty: The bestial policies of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes are being suffered by millions of citizens who find themselves critically threatened by violence, injustice and existential problems. The centralization of power in the hands of the ruling elite leads to corruption, inefficient management of funds and inadequate protection of human rights and economic freedoms.
- Misery: Misery includes suffering, crisis and negative events caused by political pressure, persecution and social chaos. Totalitarian and authoritarian regimes threaten citizens by creating an atmosphere of insecurity and fear.
- Desperation: Desperation expresses a state of critical way of life that affects individuals and society as a whole as a result of brutal repressive measures, political persecution and injustice, threats, intimidation, etc.

- Hopelessness: Hopelessness arises when citizens lose faith in the possibility of positive change and a better future. Totalitarian and authoritarian regimes hurt people and suppress freedom of expression and political pluralism, creating a climate of fear that destroys any hope for a better future.

The consequences of the brutal practices of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes, including cyber manipulation and propaganda, are leading to the collapse of democracy.

Citizens need to live the values of the Democratic Bible, such as human rights, digital free will, dignity, equality, respect for human beings, selflessness, solidarity, thoughtfulness, morality, honor, social health and mutual trust, as these principles are indispensable for achieving a happy and fulfilling life in any society.

The Democratic Bible is a key tool in ideological competition and the most effective weapon in the world to protect democracy from cyber manipulation and propaganda not only by totalitarian and authoritarian regimes, but also by politicians with a false attitude towards democracy.

There are 2 laws enshrined in the Democratic Bible:

- FIRST LAW: “Don’t hurt people or animals and don’t harm the environment.” This international rule is based on the mutual respect of man for man and the proper care of the world in which we all live together.

- SECOND LAW: “Don’t lie to people, don’t spread misinformation or hate, and don’t manipulate public opinion.” Always be a person of integrity and uphold democratic principles and values such as human rights, digital free will, dignity, equality, respect for people, selflessness, solidarity, thoughtfulness, morality, social health and mutual trust.

The Democratic Bible calls the following persons as dangerous criminals:

- Persons who harm people, animals and the environment.
- Persons who deliberately lie, spread misinformation, incite hatred or try to manipulate public opinion. These individuals pose a security threat to both citizens and the state.

The Democratic Bible proclaims the following message to humanity:

“Live the way you like to live. Help people who cannot do without help and protect the environment and animals from suffering.”

Democracy is in the heart of every citizen.

CHAPTER 7

THE DEMOCRATIC BIBLE

World and digital peace will grow with every new member admitted to the international democratic family

An increased interest in membership of the International Democratic Family, particularly from citizens of countries with totalitarian or authoritarian regimes, will bring invaluable security and economic potential for consolidating global and digital peace.

The increased interest of citizens in joining the International Family of Democracy demonstrates their desire for democracy, human rights, the rule of law, and democratic and digital prosperity. This desire will be motivated by longing for freedom, justice, equality, respect for human beings, morality, thoughtfulness and dignity, which are the fundamental pillars of democratic societies. The adoption of these democratic principles and values leads to a reduction of conflicts in the world and an increase in peaceful coexistence not only in the real world but also in cyberspace.

Membership in the International Democratic Family will provide countries of totalitarian or authoritarian regimes with support and encouragement for democratic reform and institutional changes. This process will lead to the gradual weakening of authoritarian regimes and the strengthening of democracy and world peace.

The International Democratic Family will provide a framework for democratic dialogue, diplomacy and peaceful partnership between its Member States. Democracies tend to resolve disputes and conflicts peacefully and cooperate in international initiatives, which contributes to conflict prevention and the maintenance of world peace.

The increased interest of citizens from countries with totalitarian or authoritarian regimes in becoming members of the International Democratic Family will contribute significantly to strengthening global and digital peace and stability built on the principles of international education about democracy, support for democratic reforms and the institutionalization of peace mechanisms between states.
